But it needs some unusual experience or great change to prove this true. Such an experience or rather, succession of experiences, I had last Summer. Indeed, thinking now of my trip through New Hampshire, Vermont and New York, a distance altogether of three hundred and sixty miles, every footstep, every scene is as vivid as if I were there now - the lonely mountain roads with the black snakes shooting across the path, and the partridges running out for a second s reconnoitre; the miles of pleasant farmland, with nothing wilder than a woodchuck tumbling over a wall; the crowds of villagers; the blazing heat of the midday sun burning my face deeper and deeper; the calm light of...

Reviews

These kinds of book is every thing and helped me hunting forward plus more. It is probably the most remarkable book we have read through. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.
