Women Studying Childcare: Integrating Lives Through Adult Education (Paperback)

By Hazel Wright

Institute of Education Press, United Kingdom, 2011. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book. Through rich personal narratives, Hazel R. Wright reveals how women studying childcare use education to balance a need to be both mothers and workers, and how they manage stasis and change. Informed by data collected from 150 students enrolled on a diploma course in an FE college over a ten-year period, the book challenges the assumption that vocational education cannot embrace broader liberal goals. With its fascinating personalized insights and new theoretical perspectives, it illustrates how the women exercise their right to determine their own lifestyle. Women Studying Childcare is for early years workers and managers, adult students and the staff who teach them. It opens with an informative historical overview and concludes with a concept catalogue of the ideas borrowed from sociology, psychology and economics used in education books.

Reviews

The book is not difficult in read through better to recognize. It really is writer in straightforward terms instead of confusing. I am happy to inform you that this is actually the finest publication i actually have read in my individual daily life and may be he best book for possibly.
