We have been taken for pedlars again, said he. Good God, what it must be to be a pedlar in reality! He particularised a complaint for every joint in the landlady's body. Timon was a philanthropist alongside of him. And then, when he was at the top of his maledictory bent, he would suddenly break away and begin whimperingly to commiserate the poor. I hope to God, he said, --and I trust the prayer was answered, -- that I shall never be uncivil to a pedlar. Was this the imperturbable Cigarette This, this was he. Oh, change beyond report, thought, or belief! Meantime the heaven wept upon our heads; and the windows grew brighter as the night increased in darkness. We trudged in and out of La Fere streets; we saw shops, and private houses where people were copiously dining; we saw stables where carters' nags had plenty of fodder and clean straw; we saw no end of reservists, who were very sorry for themselves this wet night, I doubt not, and yearned for their country homes; but had they not each man his place in La Fere barracks And we, what had we There seemed to be no other inn in the whole town. People gave us directions, which we followed as best we could, generally with the effect of bringing us out...
